A Resolution to Hold Universities Accountable for Student Loans

WHEREAS, the Department of Education will provide up to $20,000 in debt cancellation to Pell Grant recipients and up to $10,000 in debt cancellation to non-Pell Grant recipients to ease the burden of student-loan expenses for higher education. Borrowers have had pauses and delays of payments but are still are unable to make repayment as pandemic relief expires.

WHEREAS, nearly 8 million low to middle income borrowers are eligible for this relief who earn less than $125,000 in income or $250,000 per household. Borrowers who are employed by non-profits, the military, or federal, state, Tribal, or local government may be eligible to have all of their student loans forgiven through the Biden-Harris Student Debt Relief Plan also.

WHEREAS, one impact stands out as the immediate addition to this cost to the federal deficit already projected at over one trillion dollars for fiscal year 2022.

WHEREAS, another impact of this program is that precedence will be set; and future student loan borrowers will consider this possibility as being a fought-for right again in the future, ennobling less responsible decision-making and borrowing practices.

WHEREAS, long-term repayment of this debt will plague taxpayers and the U. S. government, eating up financial resources for social programs needed by the greater society and/or raising taxes on individuals who may not have even attended college at all but will pay toward that of a stranger.

WHEREAS, citizens should not be punished for other citizens' bad decisions in a democracy. A bail-out of individuals whose degree is not earning them enough to repay a loan or enough to withstand a Covid crisis that included pauses in which payments were not required is unfair and unjust; now, therefore, be it to students and instead extend this to institutions of higher education individually which will then serve as the arbitor for funding student loan requests fueled by their own interest in repayment and detaching taxpayers from future involvement.

The One Age Resolution

WHEREAS, restrictions vary from state to state in the U. S. that contradict a consistent age marking adulthood with wide-ranging disparities regarding the legal age to drink, to gamble, and even the minimum age to marry.

WHEREAS, this disparity creates vulnerability for trauma in children below the age of 18 and confusion and hardship for young people 18-21 and their families.

WHEREAS, one ironic inconsistency impacts 18-year-old men particularly who can be drafted into the military to fight and even die for their country and who could also be legally punished for drinking alcohol.

WHEREAS, another impact affects children as young as 12 years old who are considered of marriage-able age in one of the states where child marriage is currently legal or even one of them which has no minimum age for marriage at all.

WHEREAS, young people between 18 and 21 live in peril of being punished for breaking a law in one state that is not a law in another such as being able to gamble in a Casino in Arizona or Minnesota but punishable if done in Colorado or Iowa.

WHEREAS, American society should feel responsible for setting clearer boundaries that define the the right of passage to adulthood which would make following the rules easier for young people and prevent some young people from being taken advantage of; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, by the Student Congress here assembled that one age define adulthood in the United States federally, across all states, 18, as the legal age to drink, to gamble, to be drafted into the military, and as the minimum age to marry.

A Resolution to Require Repatriation of Cultural Artifacts by International Law

WHEREAS, looting cultural heritage from another country - in whatever century it may have occurred - in the form of statues, paintings, or other artifacts steals from the cultural and political identity of that country's history.

WHEREAS, private collectors and public museums in possession of these artifacts are affected along with original owners, heirs, and citizens of the countries of origin from all over the world.

WHEREAS, acts of looting affect citizens of prior centuries who experienced the original loss as well as those in the present day.

WHEREAS, One impact is that modern man may or may not even be aware of the loss of cultural additions and thus are ignorant of the connection to themselves or connection to the pride in their country.

WHEREAS, Repatriation should be valued and supported by all countries as a sign of respect for one another; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, by the Student Congress here assembled that the United Nations initiate a treaty recognizable by International Law expressing a mutual consent of nations to release and return cultural artifacts upon request from to the countries of origin.

A Resolution to Abolish the United Kingdom Monarchy

- 1    WHEREAS,    The United Kingdom monarchy serves no purpose; and
- 2    WHEREAS,    The monarchy can be directly linked to years of pain and suffering caused 3                    by colonization; and
- 4    WHEREAS,    The monarchy is incredibly expensive, and individuals who do not even 5                    get to experience the luxury that the monarchy has are forced to pay
6                    taxes to keep said monarch established; and
- 7    WHEREAS,    The monarch does not exercise any formal power, most powers are 8                    executed by ministers on behalf of the crown; and
- 9    WHEREAS,    The monarchy has outlived its usefulness; and
- 10   WHEREAS,    The monarchy promotes social division and represents a feudal society 11                   that has been long abandoned by majority of the world; and
- 12   WHEREAS,    As a result of the 9-century long monarchial rule, several African or Asian 13                   countries have suffered under the treatment perpetuated by these 14                   leaders; and
- 15   WHEREAS,    Under the late Queen Elizabeth II, we can see incidents like the Mau Mau
16                   rebellion, Yemen, and the Malayan Emergency, which sought
17                   independence, and in return were met with torture, rape, exploitation,
18                   and suppression; now, therefore, be it
- 19   RESOLVED,   That the Congress here assembled recommends that the UK abolishes
20                   the monarchy and uses the taxes to put towards reparations for countries 21                   affected by their actions.
