"Never get so busy making a living that you forget to make a life." —
Dolly Parton

How satisfied are American workers with their work-life balance? You are the leadership team of a labor union concerned about current working conditions in the United States. What could the US learn about work-life balance from other countries? What changes could be made by workers and businesses to improve work-life balance satisfaction? Design a resolution your union can publicize that defines the optimal work-life balance for American workers. Be sure to indicate how it would differentiate between jobs in different sectors.
